ROBERT BENDELE MEETS TRAGIC DEATH.

While driving to San Antonio shortly after midnight last Friday night, Robert Bendele was killed in an automobile accident. His body was found in the wrecked car shortly after the occurrence and from the surroundings it appears that he lost control of the car while crossing a culvert some seven or eight miles east of Castroville, his car having struck the culvert railing on the left side, just as it was leaving the bridge, gone through the fence and for some distance out into the field on the left side of the road. Although found on its wheels and with the lights all burning, it was headed back towards the road and had evidently rolled over several times. The car was a new Chevrolet sedan and the unfortunate man had evidently been rolled over and over as his badly bruised body was still in the car when found.

He was brought to Hondo and on Sunday afternoon, followed by a vast concourse of sorrowing relatives and friends, was buried in the family plot in Oakwood cemetery, Rev. W. L. Liebfarth, Pastor of the local Lutheran church, conducted the funeral rites.

The entire family and especially his aged parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Bendele, whose youngest child he was, have the deep-felt sympathy of a host of friends.

Rev. Liebfarth kindly furnished us the following obituary:

Robert Alfred Bendele was born on July 27, 1903, at Hondo, Medina County, Texas. His parents were members of the Lutheran Church and the child was offered to the Lord in Holy Baptism soon after birth. By this act the spark of faith was kindled in the heart, which was kept alive and renewed by religious instruction. The parents had the deceased duly instructed in St. Paul's Lutheran Church, and there he was confirmed on July 29, 1917.

The departed attended the public school at Hondo. He had the privilege of completing a high school training. Here he distinguished himself in the field of athletics, especially football. He was well known for his fearlessness.

At the age of 21 years the deceased was united in holy wedlock to Nora Schuehler. This was a happy union, and the Lord blessed it with three fine children, one boy and two girls. "Except the Lord build the house they labor in vain that build it." The three children were given to their Father in Holy Baptism.

But God's ways are mysterious and sometimes are hidden from our eyes. Why he allowed this union to be broken in this way will perhaps some day be known. But there is no God like unto our God. He saw fit to take away the father and the support of the family, and that very suddenly. It happened on Friday night some time, that the car in which he was driving carried the departed through a fence and into the field beyond. The news of his death by accident was a great shock to all. It was God's wise counsel to allow the departed to enjoy this life here only 28 years and 17 days.

He leaves to mourn his early end his wife and three children, Robert, Nora and Frances, a father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Bendele, Sr., one brother, George, Jr., and one sister, Mrs. Agnes Oeffinger, a half-brother, Emil Martin, and two half-sisters, Mrs. Minnie Pichot and Mrs. Pauline Goff of Goose Creek. Our hearts go out to the bereaved in their great affliction. Besides these near relations the deceased leaves a large number of kin and many friends to sorrow over his departure.

May the God of all Comfort and Consolation, who cares for the widow and the orphan and all the bereaved, console your hearts. Amen.

GRAND JURY REPORT.

THE STATE OF TEXAS, COUNTY OF MEDINA: In DISTRICT COURT of Medina County, Texas, August Term, 1931.

TO THE HONORABLE LEE WALLACE, JUDGE OF SAID COURT:

The Grand Jury empaneled by Your Honor for the above term of said Court has inquired into all matters coming before it by submission of records, information from officers and witnesses or lying within the knowledge of its members, and herewith returns true bills of indictment in all matters wherein establishment of a prima facie case by the State may be reasonably expected. In this it has been guided by Your Honor's instructions, the statutes and the advice of State's counsel.

On customary inspection of the Court House and Jail property, both of which we find in a commendable condition, however, by way of sug-

LIONS CLUB NOTES.

The Lions were exceptionally fortunate in securing the Reilly Sisters, Misses Lela Grace, Jo and Kathleen, who rendered such splendid music by a rocking motion that made the that it charmed the Lions into raptures as though they basked in the arms of Orpheus thus forgetting the turmoil and confusion for a while that occasionally involuntarily slips into an active life.

The several renditions by this musical trio were mellow, sweet and pleasing. We predict that Hollywood will have their names written on their roster, and that the radio network will convey their artistic skill throughout the length and breadth of the land. The numbers played were "March Progress" and "Regoletto". Miss Jo rendered a special solo, "Robin Adair", on the flute. Mr. Richard Reilly, father of the young ladies, was a special guest of the Lions for this occasion.

Mr. Marcos Tansey, brother-in-law of J. G. Barry, was introduced to the Lions. Judge Lee Wallace was the honor guest. He spoke briefly and lauded the splendid co-operation the officials are receiving from the citizens. It is the laity's business as well as the officers to see that the laws are obeyed and enforced. He believes in playing the game with courage and zeal. He deplored the sad state of respect for law by "a few" of our fast auto drivers and would like to see these dangers removed, thus bringing safety to human kind. The Lions accepted an invitation from the Uvalde Lions to attend a joint meeting at Uvalde, September 7th, Labor Day.

Some of the Lions were unavoidably kept from the meeting. Jack Lacy was at Con Can catching a supply of minnows for fish bait. Lion Smith was bilious and had to take his own medicine. Lion Britsch forgot. Lion Gaudion, by previous appointment, had to be in Lytle to keep in "contact", and Lion Flynn was called to Corpus Christi to attend the sad rites of one of his college friends who had suddenly passed away.

SWIMMING PARTY.

Miss Mary Ruth Wilson entertained with a swimming party in honor of Miss Catherine McCall of San Antonio, Saturday, August 15th.

After enjoying a swim in the Medina river at Castroville, a lunch of potato salad, pickles, olives, sandwiches, and punch was served.

Those invited were Catherine McCall, Doris Windrow, Anna Laura Welhausen, Bernice Chancey, Frances Campbell of Three Rivers, Mary Emma Finger, Hazel Young, Ada Belle Carter, Charlotte Miller, Genevieve Brucks, Thelma Wilson, Gladys Fusselman, Billy Fusselman, Mary Ruth Wilson and Thomas Finger, Carroll Jones, Edward Armstrong, Thomas Grimsinger, Howard Rothe, Roy Schwors, Jimmy Smith, Vivian Neuman, Thomas Holloway, Bru Miller, James Horace Bradley, Rollie Buss, August Finger, Lawrence Rothe, and George Isaac Wilson.

gestion, we believe that the removing of the Old Bath tub and wooden platform in Jail and be replaced with a shower bath; which would be more sanitary, also the ceiling at head of stair way in Jail house needs cleaning and new coat of paint. The grounds and surrounding streets are in a very attractive condition.

It has come to the attention of this Grand Jury that unnecessary reckless driving of automobiles and auto trucks on our Highways, Public roads and streets is becoming intolerable. For the benefit of all persons wish to quote Article 803 TEXAS LAWS RELATING TO MOTOR VEHICLES, VIZ: (Any peace officer is authorized to arrest without Warrant any persons found committing a violation of said laws.) We hope that all Peace officers will take cognizance of this fact.

This body has been directed over numerous matters and in its deliberations has been promptly and efficiently served by its Attorney and bailiffs to the end that the business has been dispatched rapidly. We regret very much the illness of Mr. Woodley, our District Attorney, and sincerely hope that he will soon be up and about again.

Respectfully submitted as the final report of this Grand Jury, with like request of Your Honor for its discharge.

This the 13th day of August, 1931.

O. H. Miller, Foreman.

HONDO GETS A SHAKING.

Those who are not too sound sleepers to be easily awakened were aroused about 5:45 o'clock Sunday morning by a rocking motion that made the houses creak and set every thing, such as window weights, that was loose to rattling in an uncanny manner. To most Hondo people the disturbance, which lasted less than two minutes, was a mystery, but people who had been through earthquake and quake disturbances before readily recognized its nature. Fortunately no damage was suffered locally, but press reports are to the effect that it was more destructive at other points, particularly at Valentine where considerable damage was done to buildings. The shock was felt over an area of several hundred miles.

This was the first earthquake disturbance in the recorded history of Hondo and the reactions of the people afford many amusing incidents. At the time, however, when some hidden force, unseen and of unknown possibilities, picks up the foundations of your proudest building and shakes them until they rattle, things are too serious to be funny and makes a man realize what an insignificant microbe he is and how helpless!

TWO FIRE ALARMS.

People were aroused by the sounding of the fire alarm about 1:30 Sunday afternoon, but fortunately only a straw stack in the northeast part of town was on fire and no great loss suffered.

Less fortunate, however, was the call a little after midnight Monday night when the garage, truck and other materials at the L. J. Schmidt home were destroyed.

Mr. Schmidt was aroused from sleep by the blowing of the horn on his truck to discover that it was on fire and the flames already transmitted to the garage building. He thinks a "short" in the battery wires in some way started the fire and also set off the horn. At the risk of his life Mr. Schmidt managed to drive his fine automobile out of the garage and saved it after its top was already in flames. He was painfully but not dangerously burned about the hands and face and neck while getting it out of the garage.

Mr. Schmidt's property loss will probably exceed a thousand dollars and there was no insurance.

TO ELECT MISS HONDO.

Balloting for the selection of the young lady to be Miss Hondo in the Medina County Fair and of the two girls as maids to Miss Hondo will be held Saturday, August 29, at the Chamber of Commerce Hall, beginning at 10 A. M. and ending at 9 P. M., for one day only. A charge of ten cents will be made for each ballot which gives the candidate 1,000 votes. The young lady to have the greatest number of votes will represent Hondo as its duchess, and the two girls receiving next greatest number of votes will be her princesses.

Rules are that no girl under seventeen years or a student in high school is eligible as a candidate. Any girl seventeen or over, as long as she is not in high school, may be elected Miss Hondo or one of the maids. Any girl who can fulfill all requirements and whose name has not been entered on the candidate list now shown on the bulletin board at the Chamber of Commerce Hall, may and is requested to do so at once.

THE FIRST BALE.

Hondo's first bale from the 1931 cotton crop was ginned August 14th, about two weeks later than the average date for former years. It was grown by Alberto Campanaro on the Ed de Montel farm a few miles southwest of town. It weighed 488 pounds and was sold to Paul Richter at 6 1/2 cents. It was ginned free by Mrs. J. W. Holloway & Sons who also gave the grower a $5.00 bonus. The first bale of 1930 cotton was ginned July 26th last year and the first shipment was made August 1st. Total shipment for last season were 1568 bales. For the season of 1929 it was only 727 bales. The first bale this year was shipped the day it was ginned and up to date 12 bales of this year's crop have been shipped.

Learn what a difference six cylinders make

Step out of any other low-priced car into a Chevrolet, and learn the difference six cylinders make. "Idle" the engine—and the whole car remains steady. Open the throttle—the power flows evenly. Accelerate—throttle down—go fifteen or fifty—and this smoothness stays with you whatever you do. It's actually built into the motor—and objectionable vibration never even starts!

Yet smoothness is only one of many six-cylinder advantages. There's greater quietness, because noisy vibration is gone. There's greater comfort, because built-in smoothness doesn't tire you out. There's greater flexibility, because the power impulses of a six overlap. And a six is much easier to handle!

If you raise the hood of a Chevrolet and watch the engine running so smoothly, you'll realize that six cylinders also mean greater dependability.

And remember when you do—that no other car is so economical to operate as the Chevrolet Six.

Twenty beautiful models, at prices ranging from $475 to $675

METHODIST CHURCH NEWS.

We were gratified with the fine spirit that was shown in our open air meeting, from the very beginning. We believe that it left us in a better frame of mind and spirit to carry on the work of the Kingdom. It is during such periods as that through which we have just passed that we come as a church to see and know our duty to society and to receive grace and courage to perform that duty.

We do trust that there may come out of it a determination on the part of the Church constituency to observe and to live the Christian life the way Jesus would have us live it. That is the crying need today, back to New Testament Christianity. We have drifted far afield today, many Church leaders are absolutely strangers to the Christian ideals of the first century. Even some Churches have lost their bearing, and have become merely derelicts drifting whither the sentiment may choose to carry them.

The spirit that burned the cowardice out of the heart of Peter is needed today by many who are ministering to the things of the spirit. That same Christ that made Peter bold in the Lord on the day of Pentecost will also give power to stand today against the many sins of the people and make known the Lord of Calvary.

Will not everyone who names the name of the Lord take their stand for the teachings of Jesus, regardless of your Church affiliation? Jesus lifted up the commandments, they are to be observed today, not one but all. He that breaks one is guilty of sin. And remember the wage of sin is death. Think on thy way.

Worship with us Sunday, Sunday school 9:45, Come, there is a place for all.

Subject Sunday morning: "The Church's Duty to Society".

ST. PAUL'S LUTHERAN CHURCH NOTES.

Why belong to church? Because the first Christians were church members, continuing steadfastly in the Apostle's doctrine, in fellowship, in the breaking of bread and in prayers. Acts 2, 42. God's apostle taught them not to forsake the assembling together for public worship. Hebrews 10, 25.

Our Church invites you to attend its services next Sunday morning, August 23, beginning at 10:30. They will be held in the English language. The Sunday school will meet at 9:15. It is no fairy tale that a young man went out to find some stray mules and found a throne. That man was Saul, the first King of Israel. Under God's guidance you can find a Kingdom that is eternal, and find it in God's Word. Have you looked for it or sent your children to find it? Come to church and Sunday school and see.

Plans are already under way for the annual mission festival, which will be held on one of the Sundays in October. Further announcements will be made later.

The Sunday school teachers will meet on Friday night this week at 8 P. M. The meeting will close promptly at 9 P. M. All teachers are urged to be present.

Choir rehearsal will be held next Wednesday night at 8 o'clock.

Marjorie Ann Britsch, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Britsch of Hondo, was offered to God in Holy Baptism on Sunday afternoon, August 16, in the Lutheran Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Breiten of Hondo are rejoicing over the birth of a daughter. She was born Friday, August 14.

CARD OF THANKS.

I wish to thank my neighbors and especially the Volunteer Fire Company for their help in protecting my property from further destruction by fire last Monday night. It was only through your assistance that my car was saved from destruction also. Your timely help will be ever gratefully remembered and appreciated.

Respectfully,
L. J. Schmidt.

Some counties in Illinois are said to be reducing farm land assessments 25 per cent below former valuations. Here is farm-relief as is relief. What a wholesome example for the emulation of other tax-fixing bodies.

With this issue FARMING tries the experiment of giving its readers a short short-story complete rather than an installment of a long drawn-out continued story. We hope you like the change; if not, what are your suggestions?

The Ranchmen's Round-Up, will be held August 11 and 12 at the Ranch Experiment Station, near Sonora. The Round-Up will be held under the auspices of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and a very instructive program has been arranged for the sheep and goat men.

From the destruction grasshoppers are inflicting on crops in some of the central western states it looks like the production-reducers are going to have their way with a vengeance to a considerable extent. What an opportunity for them to show how prosperity follows crop reduction!

We begin in this issue a masterly discussion of "The Farm Problem" by our Contributing Editor, Hon. Fred W. Davis. This article, on account of its length, must necessarily appear in several installments. Read each installment as it appears, save your papers and after all are published read and digest the whole. It will be a liberal education to you.

The Iowa house of representatives has passed a bill providing that all taxes levied by the various taxing bodies in that state must be five per cent less in 1931 and 1932 than in 1930. What a splendid suggestion is this for the Texas Legislature to enact a measure for the "conservation" of sweat and toil—not to mention good temper—of an over-burdened taxpaying public.

Those of us who were taught to take our Democracy straight hold to the old-fashioned notion that a deed to lands carries with it everything on it, under it and above it from the center of the earth to the bounds of the next nearest planet, to do with as he sees fit or can. In view of some of the things being said at Austin a "conservation" of basic fundamentals seems to be the greatest need.

The Texas Legislature is sweating over the question of oil "conservation" up at Austin but the problem seems to be how to conserve the big fellow's price of the finished product despite nature's lavish effort to lower it by means of large production of the crude product. This is said advisedly in view of the fact that no inquiry appears to have been made as to why gasoline and lubricating oils show no appreciable sign of coming down in price in proportion to the low price of crude.

Basically it is not too much production that ails the world. So long as there is a single want left unsatisfied there is no over-production of the thing needed to satisfy that want. Hence, it follows that our want is superinduced by a break-down somewhere between the producer and the consumer. Could living costs for the consumer come down in proportion to the low prices incident to our quantity production on the farms there would be no occasion for unemployment or want.

A FREE PEOPLE?

Americans are a free people. Free, that is, if they carefully obey some twenty or twenty-five thousand laws and regulations, and are prompt to heed the orders of the various bureaus, commissions and boards that preside over their destinies.

Probably no other nation has come in for so much legislation as the United States. Quantity, rather than quality, seems to be the ideal of our law-makers. Whether it is a matter of owning a revolver for sport or protection, or attending a Sunday picnic, we are liable to come in conflict with the forces of law and order.

Apparently we have been working on the theory that human nature can be changed by legislation. At present more than 2,000,000 persons are affiliated with movements having to do with minding other people's business. The self-styled reformer and moralist have been supreme. And the result has not been a more stable and peaceful society, but an amazing orgy of law breaking and criminality. More laws make more crime, seems to be a new American axiom.—Selected.

FARMING voiced a warning at the time the government, through the administration of the Federal Farm Board, went into the wheat and cotton speculation business that whatever holdings of either were carried over from last season to this would rise up to injure the market this year. Already the wheat farmer has found it would have been better to have taken his loss last year rather than prolong the agony into this year. What the cotton farmer is destined to suffer is soon to develop now that the new crop is beginning to move.

FOLK-SAY: A REGIONAL MISCELLANY.

Edited by B. A. Botkin.

Book review by Mary Octavia Davis: Once in a great while book-lovers run across a book that is all satisfying, a book that gives him the excited feeling of a discoverer; one whose every page is a new adventure. The book-lover becomes so enthusiastic in proclaiming the merits of his "find" that those of his friends, to whom a book is just so many printed pages between stiff covers, are convinced the enthusiast is headed for high blood pressure. They try to reason with the idiot but nothing seems to affect his fervent panegyrics.

Such a book is the 1930 Folk-Say: A Regional Miscellany published by the University of Oklahoma at Norman. ($5.00).

Bound in rust-colored cloth and lettered in gold, it is a beautiful book. Added to its beauty are black and white linoleum cuts scattered throughout the book. The frontispiece is by Keith Mackaye and the linoleum cuts by Mrs. Annett.

Folk-Say is a collection of folklore of the folk who have contributed much of American literature. "It is," quoting the Passaic Daily News, "a book of valuable source material explanatory of the European, African and Oriental origins of American literary backgrounds."

This panorama spread lavishly before those who have seeing eyes contains poems on the negro and the Indian; tales of old-timers in Texas and Oklahoma; Indian tales; old beliefs and superstitions of the negro, the Mexican and the mountaineer; rid-

WITH THE TEXAS PRESS.

Enters Editor Fletcher Davis of Fletcher's Farming, published out at Hondo, the following:

What this country needs is not a moratorium in Europe but a lifting of mortgages in America.

Now you're shouting, brother, the estimate of some other old line democrats. Looks as it will be good campaign material for next year, but permanent prosperity for the people of these U. S. A. would be far better for this grand and glorious country. Politics always will be politics, however.—Fred W. Robinson, in Waco News-Tribune.

FARMING announces with pleasure the addition of another Associate Editor with this issue. Another member of the Davis clan, this time in the person of the editor's daughter, Miss Anne Davis, not only relieves us of the burden of maintaining the Household Department of our paper but promises to enlarge upon its scope—all of which we are glad to entrust to her hands. Not having had the background of a farm bringing-up, her chief qualification for her duties is a desire to help. So we ask our lady readers, instead of judging too critically, to assist her in finding herself. Write her your encouragement and constructive suggestions, and keep your eyes on page eleven.

If the Texas Legislature fails to redistrict the state into new Congressional districts there will be some mighty interesting news breaking soon thereafter. While we feel that our solons should set the example of law-observance for us lesser mortals to emulate by obeying the constitutional mandate to redistrict, we hate to think of all the political fun it would spoil.

dles; singing games, titled "Corn-stalk Fiddle and a Buckeye Bow"; and short essays by J. Frank Dobie, Carl Sandburg, Percy Mackaye and hosts of others.

Folk-Say is like a tapestry carefully woven in red, blue and gold threaded through with black, the poignancy of its appeal.

It has all the color, the light and shadow of an ever changing pageantry.

The editor of Folk-Say, published by the University of Oklahoma at Norman, is B. A. Botkin, instructor of English in the University of Oklahoma and president of the Oklahoma Folk-Lore Society. He is working on a new Folk-Say for 1931.

Folk-Say: A Regional Miscellany, published by the University of Oklahoma at Norman. ($5.00).

"One constructive bill," says the Editorial Digest, "has been offered the legislature, however, and if it passes it may justify all of the money we spent in entertaining for another month these members of the 42nd legislature. This bill would make unlawful the manipulation of prices by large oil companies for the manifest purpose of spanking local, independent competition. Most of us have noticed and marveled that gasoline refined in Houston could be selling there at fourteen cents the gallon, and still be shipped to Austin and dispensed at ten cents. Of course this anomalous situation was created only when the big fellows had trouble-some competition in Austin. Under the provisions of this offered bill, they still may reduce gasoline to ten cents in Austin for the purpose of making it hard for that local competitor; but they'd have to reduce prices proportionately in every other point in the state. It is doubtful that they could stand the gaff over so wide a territory for the reward of putting out of business a local competitor in just one town or city; it is doubtful they would attempt it. For that reason this bill—if it passes and is sustained by the courts—may legislate opportunity for small people back upon the statute books."

A hungry man is a dangerous animal. And unless all signs fail, the South is going to be over-run this winter by more unemployed than ever before in its history. For birds of passage always turn to a warmer climate when the north wind begins to pinch. It is unfair and unsafe to leave the feeding of these men to individuals. Municipalities and other local governmental units should assume this burden and plans should be made for handling the problem before it reaches serious proportions. Municipal housing and feeding of those willing to earn their board and keep on public road work and a strict enforcement of the vagrancy law on the unwilling might help solve the problem. As well get busy on it now.

The last issue of FARMING completed its ninth volume and with this issue it enters its tenth year. Slowly but surely FARMING is attracting to itself what it covets more than anything else—a clientage of kindred spirits who can agree to disagree over minor details and work together for the greater purpose of the betterment of rural life conditions. If you are one of us you can help in many ways to strengthen the paper financially and extend its sphere of influence. Renew your own subscription promptly, induce your neighbor to become a subscriber or better still send it to him yourself, and patronize those who advertise in its columns. Help us to make our tenth year the best yet.

That was an anomalous situation at A. & M. College recently when an invited guest of that great institution, maintained to train men to be more efficient farmers to the end that they may produce more at less cost of production, advised that the only salvation of the country is to produce less! To be consistent he should have advised that the walls of the institution be torn down, its vast store of accumulated scientific facts be destroyed and instead of sending the young man out equipped with scientifically trained minds and hands skilled in the use of productive machinery, given them a stone hatchet and told them to go to it!

THE OLD MUSICIAN.

By A. S. Draper.

Slowly the old musician fingered the keyboard. He called the keys his friends, stroking the loved ones tenderly. They answered thus, the master's touch, telling tales of long ago. And chanted lowly the sad sweet memories of the past; Then only as the soul can lead one on the old man played. It was the story of his life,—he had it on his finger tips. They seemed to whisper to the keys the story of the past; The song of birds, the murmur of the brook and the quivering of the leaves. Told of a happy youth, then the mad rush of the torrent. The wild cry of the storm, and the crash of the breakers beating on a rocky shore. Told of turbulent days and of shattered hopes. After the storm had passed the master still played on; The lingering sunset tinged the long wide sweep of the billows. The dying wind spoke of the distant shore and of other lands. Then the tale grew sad. Torn and tattered sails swayed o'er a battered hull. A low moaning at the bar was heard. The ship had returned— The music stopped at once. The lifeless fingers had no more to tell. For the old musician was dead.

IN FAREWELL.

Summer
Came running
To greet me,
With flowers in her hair.
On a moon drenched night—
Stayed
Just long enough;
To show me
Shadowed pools
Where lilies grow
And hot prairies
With brown and yellow grasses—
Answered the birds
With her own little song!
Then
Summer,
Running
With her fingers
On her lips,
Left me
With a promise
In farewell
Of red berries
And golden leaves
To come
In the fall!

COMPANIONSHIP.

By C. W. Johnson.

I hear a voice that speaks to me;
I sense a presence I cannot see,
I feel the hand that leadeth me
On mountain tops or by the sea.
In times of joy and times of pain,
In days of sunshine and of rain,
Where'er I go, where'er I be,
I know God's hand still leadeth me.
Christ walks with me close by my side;
My love for Him I must not hide!
So sure am I He knows the way,
I will not fear but trust alway.
He is my hope, my guide, my light;
When life is done all will be right.
No fear have I of any day,
When Christ is with me all the way.

THE FARM PROBLEM.

fused the farmers the same privilege, this same banker may think the farmers radical when they grumble that they are not getting a square deal. Yet, the farmers' products are indispensable and their customers are certain as the continuance of life. If loans are made, the rate of interest is usually 10 per cent, or more. Compel any large industry to pay 10 per cent interest and that industry will soon advertise its woes to the public.

It would be unfair to condemn individual bankers for refusing to loan money to farmers for the purpose of holding their products for a profit. They may not be permitted to do so and again they may have no faith in the effort. They are not accustomed to this policy. Yet, this does not remove the absolute necessity for such help. We must remember that no economists of note are speaking in favor of farm products being impounded by the farmers and held for a predetermined price, based upon productive costs. Yet, every business that succeeds is so run. Money is loaned for the purpose of producing crops despite its many hazards, but when production is an actual reality our money lenders appear to be afraid to loan money on them for the purpose of enabling farmers to secure profitable prices.

THE PRICKLY PEAR.

By Geo. E. Pentecost

I am the lowly prickly pear,
With vestments made of thorns;
I thrive the best in Texas air,
Where cattle grow long horns.

I am the lowly prickly pear,
And ask no odds at all;
But, stinging those who pass my lair,
I make the bravest bawl.

TWINKLING STARS.

By Emma Allen Bailey

Pretty stars, all twinkling bright,
How I've watched you in the night.
See you twinkle, twinkle there—
God has placed you with great care.
And your shining, twinkling face
Plainly shows God's wondrous grace!

THAT WOMAN OF YOURS.

By R. L. Campbell.

Make good for her, be to her true,
For she has placed her all on you.
She is the lady of your dreams,
But don't forget that she dreams dreams;
That in her man she sees a knight
Who for her sake would dare to fight
Against all odds until success.
Will crown his efforts; nothing less.

Her dreams of you all visualize
A man who will not compromise
On average success, but who
Will make her day dreams all come true.
She likes to see you put on airs,
And make good in the world's affairs.
Then prove to her that you are true
For she has staked her all on you.

With faith enough within yourself
You cannot fail to win pelf;
Just see yourself as she sees you
And you will make her dreams come true.
The luxuries you think she craves
Are not mere baubles. What she craves
Are all trophies, for they let her
Prove her man is a go-getter.

Make good for her, be to her true,
For she has staked her all on you.
And though your task at first be hard
I'm sure that she will be your pard;
That she will worship at your shrine,
And never waver from the line.
Her happiness then do not mar,
But be the man she thinks you are.

PURELY SUNG UPON.

By Mrs. Elizabeth Giles Winn.

One lovely summer day
The birds were singing gay
Their melodies so sweet and clear,
Green branches swayed in time,
That happy day in June;
Dispelled was every thought of fear.
There seemed to float through space
An echo of each tune.
The red-bird sang unto his mate,—
I thought that surely fine;
I faithfulness did trace,
Because he warbled on till late,
His love-call divine.

Though now 'tis nearly fall,
I still remember all,—
The memories are sweet and dear—
The echoes that I heard.
And the music of each bird,
Are soothing undertones of life.
Ah, should I live for years,
They'll still the aching fears
That often cut me like a knife.
When I am dead and gone,
The echoes of each song
I trust will linger very near,
And on the breezes play
That bear by soul along.

OVER THE HILL.

By Fletcher Davis.

Oh the road seems the longest when we are weary
And our hope the weakest when the way is dreary;

But ever, though the gloom of night be the deepest,
Just over the hill that seems the roughest,
steepest,

In the light of breaking day, with strength
all but spent,
I've found there lies the restful Vale of sweet Content!

Then, in courage strong, let us on our way press on,
Knowing that beyond the hill lies the glorious dawn!

TEXAS AND TEXANS.

By
Will H. Mayes.
"All Texans for All Texas"

Legislative Handicaps.

The average taxpayer fails to see that he has been helped by the special session of the legislature. It remains to be seen who has been helped in the oil business, but the independent producers feel that they have been left holding a leaking bag that drains into the tanks of the major oil companies. The most honest legislators, anxious to serve Texas, seemed to have been bewildered by the "expert" testimony of the oil chieftains and lobbyists who thronged Austin during the session, and who must have chuckled as they saw the results of their combined efforts. Few legislators, or, for that matter, few other citizens know enough about the intricacies of the oil business, with its numerous interlocking interests, to be able to determine the effects of any proposed legislation. The legislature is more to be pitied than blamed for not rendering any more effective help to the people. Too many members are merely confused, not corrupt.

Farm Dictatorship.

Indignant because the legislature killed his pet measure to restrict cotton acreage by imposing heavy penalties, the Texas agricultural commissioner has announced that unless other proponents of the same kind of legislation run on that platform he will become a candidate for governor with a platform to make farmers farm according to his ideas of how it should be done. He wants a legislature committed to the same kind of a constructive (?) program of farming. Under such a law the number of new courts and enforcement officers that would be required would afford permanent relief to any employment situation that might exist.

Mining The Treasury.

Officials of the College of Mines and Metallurgy near El Paso are asking that the name of the school be changed and that it be separated from the University of Texas and allowed to function as a separate college of the first class, inasmuch as not quite a third of its students are students of mining. The school was established in recognition of the need in Texas for a school specializing in mining and metallurgy, and if that need no longer exists, as appears from the official announcement, it should be abolished. The State now has too many "first-class" colleges. No sooner is a State school of any kind established than it begins to extend its curriculum and teaching force and to appeal for support of courses that should be offered only in a University. Texas should support its schools well, but strictly within the scope for which they were organized.

More Bond Issues.

Meetings have been held in San Antonio to urge issuance of bonds for "relief of the unemployed," through public works of kinds to give employment to the greatest number of people. There is no disputing the fact that people who want work should have it, but the expediency of voting bonds solely to create employment without reference to public needs is doubtful. Unless limits are placed there will soon be an urge to vote bonds for the relief of those who can't pay the taxes with which to pay interest on bonds.

Carolina Peaches.

Texas isn't the only State that has an over-supply of products. Fine ripe peaches are being sold in South Carolina for 10 cents a bushel at the orchards. Many are being given to those who can use them and are unable to pay for them. Still, vast quantities are rotting. Community-owned canneries under direction of county farm agents would solve the problem of over-supply.

World's Biggest Jersey Herd.

The Lanter Jerseys at Falfurrias are to be sold following the death of Ed. C. Lanter, who established and built up the herd into what is said to be the biggest and best herd of Jersey cattle in the world. It is to be hoped that most of them will be bought in Texas and used for building up still bigger and better herds in this State where cattle grow to such perfection.

Millions in Buildings.

The Lower Rio Grande Valley includes the three counties' farthest South in Texas. A recent survey shows that there is a total of $1,130,000 in public and commercial building construction under way in the three counties. This does not include several million dollars of irrigation and drainage work and $700,000 of road work. Several large fruit packing plants are among the buildings under construction. The largest single project is the $430,000 Federal building at Brownsville.

Texas-Pacific Station.

The Texas-Pacific Railway is showing its faith in the future of Fort Worth and its large trade territory by spending some $6,000,000 in new station, trackage and yard facilities at Fort Worth. When this is completed those who have for years associated Fort Worth in their minds with the old red brick depot will hardly know the city when they change cars there. Fort Worth's old slogan was "Everybody changes cars at Fort Worth." Nearly everybody did, and most of them changed at the old T-P station, built nearly 50 years ago.

Red Cross Aid.

The best way to aid people is to help them to help themselves. The best time to help them is before they need help. At Nocona the Red Cross committee has arranged to have the county demonstration agent direct the canning of fruit and will supply cans to those who are unable to pay for them. It is a shame to let fine fruit and vegetables waste, for they will all be needed next winter.

Broom Corn Crop.

Devine can always be counted on to diversify its crops and nearly always finds a good market. Sixty cars of broom corn will be shipped from there. The crop is estimated at about a ton three acres, and at the prevailing price is said to be profitable to growers.

Cutting Salaries.

Many schools are cutting the salaries of teachers and increasing their work. Coleman began by reducing the superintendent's salary $35 a month, scaling the cuts down to the grade school teachers, whose salaries were reduced $5. The school officials took the view that it is better to pay smaller salaries than to be unable to pay them at all.

Who Wants a Fish Hatchery?

Abilene offered 200,000,000 gallons of water annually for a proposed West Texas Fish Hatchery to be maintained by the Federal Bureau of Fisheries. The bureau wanted 300,000,000 gallons, but Abilene feared that the city water supply would be endangered. Graham, Sweetwater, San Angelo, Del Rio and Fort Stockton have all made offers, but none of these appear to be quite satisfactory. Some West Texas locality with the required amount of water to spare may be able to get the hatchery.

Brady's Swimming Pool.

Brady seems more interested just now in swimming pools than in fish hatcheries and will this week dedicate a well-built, well-lighted concrete pool ranging in depth from 3 to 10 feet. Editor Schwenker is going to be among the very first to bathe and has invited a number of editors from neighboring towns to "go in" with him. A great show is promised.

Preserving Old Structure.

The old water tower, built in the early 80's and used for many years to hold the sheet iron reservoir that stored the water supply at Columbus is to be converted into a museum and remodeled to make a unique community center. Nearly everybody who has ever gone to Columbus remembers the old stone tower on the courthouse square almost as well as the historic oak tree under which the first district court ever held in Texas is said to have been conducted. Columbus is to be congratulated for its determination to retain the old tower despite efforts of many to have it destroyed as an "eye-sore."

Municipal Shower Baths.

Should you be in Elgin on Saturday night it is your own fault if you do not get a bath. On Saturday nights there is "old-time" music and dancing on the streets and a municipal shower bath for "the kids" with no restrictions as to age limit. Every one who wishes may be a "kid."

DEVINE NEWSLETS

The Prof. says he has been running his Chevrolet Six 14 months and has never had a flat or made change in tires, in running over 10,000 miles.

LOADING OUT SIXTH CAR BROOMCORN.

It looks like broomcorn may be our best paying crop, at $70.00 the ton. J. C. Redus, grower and buyer is loading out his sixth car, which means $40,000 or more, and is the best money so far received from any one crop this season.

1931 DISTRICT TAXES REDUCED.

A 10 percent reduction will be made on the 1931 interest and sinking fund or bond tax of the Bexar-Medina-Atascosa Counties Water Improvement District No. 1. The reduction was decided upon by the Board of Directors of the District at their meeting held on Wednesday of last week. It will decrease the tax approximately $.40 per acre and will be a general reduction of about $15,700.00.

The payment of principal and interest on the bond issue for this year will be even greater than last year. The reduction of the tax for the year 1931 and at the same time a sufficient amount being levied for retirement of the payments due in 1932 is made possible by accrued penalties and interest on bond taxes for the preceding years.

According to M. E. Howard, Tax Assessor and Collector, for the District, the District embraces 38,801.68 acres of land situated in Bexar, Medina and Atascosa counties. The Board of Directors of the District, C. H. Kearney, R. L. Busby, P. A. Welty, W. E. Sorrell and W. E. Jack Ball.

Mr. J. G. Weekly attended the funeral of the late Mr. Hyatt of Hondo, whose remains were taken to Gillette, Texas for funeral.

Rev. Merrill and family of Hondo attended services here Monday morning.

COLONIAL COVERINGS.

The feature attraction for the Colonial Theatre Saturday is "Aloha," a story of the tropical isles and the love of a man for a native maid, and their marriage in the face of conventions and taboos of society. Raquel Torres and Ben Lyon head the notable cast of players.

Comedy laid on thick is the promise of Manager R. L. Jennings of the Colonial Theatre who is offering Charlie Ruggles in "The Girl Habit" as the main feature of the program beginning Sunday. "The Girl Habit" is Ruggles' first starring picture. It presents Charlie as a wealthy young bachelor who, although already engaged to marry one sweet young thing, just can't seem to keep out of the clutches of every conniving female he meets. As such it gives him a chance to display his clever talents for making folks laugh right out loud. He is supported by a brilliant array of feature players.

Your favorites, Clark Gable, Madge Evans, Lew Cody, Ernest Torrence, Marie Prevost and J. Farrell McDonald will be seen at the Colonial Theatre, Thursday and Friday in "Sporting Blood", a thrilling talking picture. Besides a romantic love story, there is included one of the best horse races ever filmed.

K. K. WOODLEY RECOVERING IN S. A. HOSPITAL.

District Attorney Kenneth K. Woodley became ill with pneumonia last Sunday and grew worse until it was decided that he should be sent to a hospital in San Antonio. He was carried to the Santa Rosa Hospital Wednesday morning, where he is receiving medical attention. Last reports before going to press indicate that he is doing as well as could be expected, but that his fever is still running pretty high. The best wishes of the whole citizenship of Sabinal are with Mr. Woodley in his illness, and it is hoped that he will soon be able to return home out of danger. —Sabinal Sentinel.

FATHER WILLIAM LAMM CELEBRATES SECOND SOLEMN MASS IN HOLY CROSS CATHOLIC CHURCH OF D'HANIS.

The Holy Cross Catholic Church of D'Hanis was an interesting scene on Sunday morning, August 16th, when Reverend William Robert Lamm, S. M., celebrated his second solemn High Mass, the first which was celebrated in St. Henry's church in San Antonio, August 9.

Following the first Gospel an impressive sermon on the sublime dignity of the priesthood was preached by Father Mayl. Solemn Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament concluded the impressive services, after which Father Lamm imparted his blessing to the congregation.

Father Lamm is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Lamm of San Antonio. Mrs. Lamm is remembered as Angela Weynand, a daughter of an early pioneer family of D'Hanis. Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Weynand. Therefore the Weynand families of today had the honor of celebrating this great day. They are all very proud of their "Dear Father William Lamm."

Immediately after mass a reception was held at the parish hall where a sumptuous feast was served to about 80 guests, mostly relatives of Father Lamm.

Those present were: Reverend Mayl of St. Louis; Reverend William Lamm of San Antonio; Reverend Dean F. Maass, the Choir, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Albrecht and children, Misses Josie, Lucy and Sarah Rothe and Grace Zinsmeyer, all of D'Hanis; Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Lamm, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lamm, Jr. and children, Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Lamm and children, all of San Antonio; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Friels and children of Sgrain and Mrs. Hubert Weynand and children of Somerset; Mr. Pete Weynand and son, Herman, and Mr. and Mrs. August Weynand and sons of Hondo; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Weynand, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Weynand and children, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Weynand and children, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wolff and daughter, Adeline, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Huser and children, Mrs. Mary Rostert and Mrs. Kate Biechler, Mr. and Mrs. Joe J. Lutz and children all of D'Hanis.

After everybody had enjoyed the good dinner, the crowd was entertained with several interesting speeches, one of which was where Father Lamm thanked the ones who gave this celebration in his honor. He said that this reminded him of his boyhood days that he had spent amongst them in D'Hanis.

After holding conversation with the crowd and greatly enjoying himself he left for San Antonio at 3:30 P. M., accompanied by his parents and Father Mayl.

For the amusement of the vast crowd that will attend this annual event, baseball games will be a daily attraction, on Friday the Boerne White Sox cross bats with the Waring Eagles, on Saturday the Fredericksburg Giants (Leaders of the Hill Country League) will meet the Boerne White Sox, while on Sunday the regular scheduled game of the Hill Country League will be played when the Comfort Broncos meet the Mason Mavericks. These games will certainly be of interest to baseball fans; all ball games to start promptly at 1:30 P. M.

The feature attraction each afternoon will be the Thoroughbred Horse Racing, a number of the best racing horses in these parts are on the ground with more coming daily, and splendid races are assured the race loving public; races will start daily at 3 P. M.

The Royal Gray Shows will furnish show and carnival attractions day and night.

The latest in a public address system has been secured; loud speakers of immense size will be placed at the grand stand and on the grounds, for the announcements of races, ball games and other items of interest.

NEW FOUNTAIN W. M. S.

A most enjoyable and interesting meeting of the New Fountain Missionary Society took place at the home of Mrs. Geo. H. Wiemers on Friday afternoon, August 14. The Devotional opened by singing "Am I a Soldier of the Cross?" and a prayer. Mrs. F. Stiegler led the Devotional topic, "Comradeship with the Divine." The Missionary topic, "New Emphasis in Home Missions", was discussed as follows: "A New Day as Seen Through the Washington Congress," Mrs. L. H. Heyr; "Home Mission and the Modern World," Mrs. Clarence Munnink; "A Message Formulated at the Congress," Mrs. Jacob Schweers.

A business session and a social hour followed. A delicious repast was served by the hostess to nine members and four guests. The afternoon was spent in a most delightful way and we hope to have every member present at our next meeting in the home of Mrs. Theo. G. Wiemers.

Mrs. Bunting, the Secretary of the Women's Missionary Society from Uvalde, was present at the Sunday morning services. She gave us a very inspiring message on what it means to be a member of the W. M. S. We hope there were many present who were encouraged to help this great missionary work and give it their undivided support.

That's how to place a station-to-station call.

Usually the call goes through while you hold the line.
